DETAILED ACTION

Continued Prosecution Application

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on February 20, 2002 has been entered. Claims 1-6 and 8-15 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(e) the invention was described in-

(1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effect under this subsection of a national application published under section 122(b) only if the international application designating the United States was published under Article 21(2)(a) of such treaty in the English language; or

(2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that a patent shall not be deemed filed in the United States for the purposes of this subsection based on the filing of an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a).

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) and (e) as being anticipated by Perricone (US 6365623 B1) ('623).

'623 patent teaches method of treating acne in inflammatory phase by applying a composition comprising lipoic acid and most preferably adjunct ingredients such as 0.5 – 5 % by weight of methyl or ethyl-aminoalcohols or 0.05-5 % by weight of tyrosine.

See col. 5, lines 30-53; col. 8, lines 41 – 61; col. 9, lines 16 – 22; claims 1, 4, 11, and 12. The patent specifically discloses that “one particularly efficacious embodiment of the invention contains lipoic acid, glycolic or lactic acid, and dimethylaminoalcohol; another further contains tyrosine.” See col. 9, lines 21 – 23.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 6, 9-15 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over '623 in view of Perricone et al. (US 6162419) ('419).

While '623 patent, discussed above, fails to teach the additional ingredients in instant claims 6 and 11, the reference teaches that the composition therein minimizes or eliminates the side effects of conventional acne medications such as benzoyl peroxide. The irritating effect of benzoyl peroxide is inherently present. See Corless et al. (US 5470884), col. 1, lines 41 - 55.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the method in '623 patent by adding conventional acne medications such benzoyl peroxide because of the expectation to successfully enhance the efficacy of the composition and minimize or eliminate the harmful side effects of thereof.
